Eibach Pro-Truck-System: One simple improvement = A new world of performance.

Is there one single, simple upgrade that can transform your 2WD Pickup? That can turn it from a run-of-the-mill hauler into a true performance truck—in just a few hours?

The secret? Eibach's legendary Pro-Truck performance suspension.

This is not just hype. These are real-world gains, obtained in impartial, independent testing*, that detail the incredible mileage and performance increases achieved by simply installing an Eibach Pro-Truck suspension system.

Eibach didn't just improve slalom and skid-pad speed of the Ford F-150. They transformed it in virtually every aspect of performance and handling. The lower center of gravity reduced front-end-dive, improving all-out braking performance. It reduced weight transfer in acceleration, improving 0-to-60 times. And the lowered stance reduced aerodynamic drag, dramatically increasing mileage as well.

Test Data	Stock	With Eibach Pro-Truck	Why?
Top Speed	95.7 mph	95.6mph	No change (governed)
700-foot Slalom	47.3 mph	49.7 mph	Reduced roll, better steering response
Braking 60-0 mph	102 feet	91 feet	Reduced dive
Lateral g (150 ft skid pad)	.65 g	.70 g	Reduced roll
Average Test MPG	17.77 mpg	18.83 mpg	Reduced aero drag
Acceleration 0-60 mph	11.41 sec. avg.	11.18 sec. avg.	Reduced weight transfer

* Your results may vary. Testing and results certified by TestPilots Independent Testing Services™. 2007 Ford F-150 2WD Crew Cab, tested at Willow Springs International Raceway, 2/17/08-2/19/08.

The numbers are impressive—but they don't tell the whole story. The F-150 became much more enjoyable to drive, with better steering feel and response, enhanced cornering speed, more-secure braking and impressive high-speed stability, all retaining a compliant, comfortable ride. Not to mention the improved profile of its filled wheel wells and lower, more-aggressive stance.

If Eibach performance suspension components can do all this for a stock pickup—just imagine what they can do for your personal machine. Available for most popular cars, trucks and SUV's.
